AESTHESIS' GRAMOPHONE LOUDSPEAKERS

The revolutionary new Gramophone from Aesthesis was five years in the making and the result of the creative input from the biggest names in Swedish electronic and mechanical design, Ergonomidesign, Eker Design and Carbocomp. Different in design and acoustics from the normal high-end loud speakers available in the market, Aesthesis' Gramophone is made up of a pair of 1.2m-high horn-like loudspeakers handcrafted in carbon-fiber and stainless steel. The special curved speakers are designed in this way to amplify high frequencies, while an open cabinet amplifies low frequencies. Expected to be highly sought after, only 100 of the Aesthesis' Gramophone are being made.
